Here's how Grayling's Mercy Hospital looks from the airways, this shot was taken recently by photographer Michael Delp while aboard an Ohio National Guard helicopter.

Construction of the new hospital addition is nearly complete. Portions of the new addition have been occupied since mid-May.

The $8 million renovation-construction program has allowed Mercy Hospital to greatly expand and improve medical services to residents and visitors in the six-county area the facility serves.

Patient capacity will be increased from 106 to 130 beds, which includes restoring 22 beds to the extended care facility. Other major improvements include the opening of a fully-equipped 6-bed critical care unit, a new orthopedic surgery suite and a vastly improved, modern emergency room. Both the radiology and respiratory departments have been expanded and improved. The new addition also houses physical therapy facilities, a pharmacy, social services and a Mercy Hospital Auxiliary Gift Shop. Visitor parking capacity has been almost doubled.

According to Mercy Hospital Public Relations Director Jack Witter, renovation of the entire project anticipated for this fall.

Witter indicated the $500,000 building and development campaign fund is approaching the goal set two years ago when the appeal was launched, with pledges now totalling $486,000.

Michigan Guard Arrive

(Special to the Avalanche)

Some 7,000 members of the Michigan Army National Guard arrived Saturday for two weeks of annual training at Camp Grayling.

Joining the 10 major commands are the 2228 Engineer Company of the Louisiana National Guard and the 37th Signal Company of the Ohio National Guard.

The two-week training session ends Aug. 16.

After arriving at the main camp, units immediately began preparations for field training. The majority of units taking to the field are infantry and engineer units. They'll be located on various ranges of the 122,000 acre Hanson Military Reservation.

Absent this year are several Military Police units. Normally, two Military Police battalions and four companies are on duty at the base during annual training. This year, the majority have been sent to other states to provide security for the Cuban refugee processing camps.

Michigan Guard units here arrived by convoy from points as distant as Dowagiac, Ishpeming, Jackson, Alpena and South Haven.

All 7,000 Guard members will assemble Friday at 4 p.m. on the Camp Grayling parade field for the annual review of troops. The ceremony is open to the public.

Bear Goes to Bat for Injured Boy

by Willie Cusick

Recently, a national news wire service, carried the story of a tragic accident, and the concentrated efforts, of a plucky youngster, to carry his own burden.

In 1975, little Morgan Rowe, now ten years old, was the victim, of a tragic tractor accident, injuring the child extensively, causing the loss of the left arm, and only limited use of the right arm. He has undergone twenty-seven operations, numerous ski grafts, accumulating astronomical medical expenses.

Shortly after his accident, little Morgan pledged, to his parents, that he would help pay his uninsured medical expenses. As soon as he was physically able, Morgan began sending whatever he could earn, to the South Georgia Medical Center in Valdosta, Ga., where he spent three and one half months, in the intensive care unit.

Most of his income, coming from recycling aluminum. He also makes button necklaces, key chains, and delivers newspapers for the Orlando Sentinel Star, to augment his income. To date, he has paid three thousand dollars, of his own medical expenses.

Morgan's family moved to Gainesville, Fla. last August, and as news of his diligence reached the Florida community, Bear Archery responded with an offer to donate all their scrap aluminum from the manufacture of their bows and arrows. According to Nancy Ward, public relations officer, of the Bear Company, who initiated the Morgan Rowe Fund, at the First City Bank, in Gainesville the local response has been extremely rewarding. Over eighteen thousand dollars, remains to be paid.

In addition to Bears' charitable endeavor, the Reynolds Aluminum Company's Tampa Office, has pledged to have sales of aluminum, channeled into Morgan's account.

Morgan was to return, to the Scottish Rite Hospital in Atlanta, Ga. for a preliminary check-up, as he prepares to undergo his twenty-eight surgery. This Atlanta hospital, is under the auspices of the Shriners and the Masons and offers medical care, at little or no cost, to those in need.

This young man is certainly the epitome of responsibility, and self-reliance, and must surely redeem our appreciation, of our American youth.

The fund address is: Morgan: P.O. Box 1071, Gainesville, Florida 32602

Huss, Hatfield Lovely, White In Primary Win

by Michael Delp

In one of the most exciting elections in recent memory, county voters decided the slate for the upcoming November election. In the closely watched race for the Republican nod for Prosecuting Attorney, John B. Huss defeated Douglas Dossou 719-582. Huss will now face democrat incumbent Alton Davis in Nov.

Another race which had election watchers nervous occurred between three Republicans running for the slot for Sheriff. Harold Hatfield narrowly defeated Arthur Clough 524-516 and turned away Michael Anthony who garnered 296 votes.

Incumbent Sheriff Joe White defeated his challenger, Douglas Wallman, 506-121 and will meet Hatfield in the November election.

In the County Clerk's race, incumbent Leo Lovely defeated James Kelka 943-368 on the republican side of the ticket.

The race for County Commissioners saw four district races up for grabs. In District 1 incumbent democratic candidate John Miller defeated his democratic opponent, Bernard Hinkle, 78-45. Incumbent Lawrence Mattis turned away Al Prudhomme in District 2 Democratic race 89-62. In District 3 Republican Mary Harland defeated her republican opponent Charles Knecht 120-64, and District 4 saw incumbent democrat Andie Nielsen beat democratic challenger Jerry Krayes 76-60 for the democratic slot in November.

The county-wide Dial-a-Ride proposal passed easily, 1344 yes, to 610 no. Complete results will be published in next week's Avalanche. These results are an unofficial count and are subject to a canvasser's statement.

Smock Archery Wins State District at Boyne City

The Amateur Softball Association (ASA) held State Class C Districts at Boyne City over August 2-3. Teams competed from Boyne City, Charlevoix, Grayling and Petoskey. In Saturday action, Smock Archery defeated Depot of Boyne City 12 to 11. Mark "The Cruncher" Golnick kept them in the game with three home runs. A tough Charlevoix team, Kit Carson, met Smock Archery in the second game, soundly defeating them 8 to 2.

Returning to Boyne City on Sunday, Ron Metzger pitched and Darrel Metzger hit Smock Archery to an inspired 10 to 1 victory over Midas Muffler of Petoskey. That win set the stage for a rematch with undefeated Kit Carson and meant Smock Archery must beat them twice or virtually be eliminated from the tournament.

Fully aware of the uphill battle, Mgr. Smock called on veteran Steve Weaver to pitch.

Senior Citizen Homemaker Service

What does it mean to the U.S. as a nation to have a population with a rapidly growing proportion of older people? What will it mean to the generations now middle aged and younger who will be elderly as this century ends and a new one begins.

By the year 2020 and only 40 years away when you, now in your 20's and 30's are 65 and older, one out of every five Americans will be in your age category. That compares with one of every nine currently 65 or over, and one of every 50 who managed age 65 in 1776.

The babies of the post-world II baby boom, who are now setting up families of their own, will be swelling the ranks of the elderly during the first quarter of the 21st century.

The vast improvement in life expectancy is adding to the number of the aged. Just in the past five years, the life expectancy of a typical 65-year old man has increased by about 10 months, according to a study by actuaries Stephen G. Peterson and Robert C. Toussaint with the employee benefit counseling firm of Buck Consultants, Inc. That typical 65 year old woman brings her to age 84.

There will be temporary dips in the upsurge, but by year 2030 our older population is expected to be over 61 million.

Our Homemakers have done services for 2277 senior citizens. To qualify for our services you need only be 60 years of age or older and have a health problem such as arthritis, illness, injury or other handicaps. If you need our services or know of someone that does, please call the Senior Citizen (348-9314) for more information. There is no charge for this service however, if you can afford to pay we do accept and appreciate donations. This allows us to do more services for more people.

From Our Corner ...

Despite a light drizzle that fell during the Milltown Parade Saturday afternoon, everyone who attended the festivities seemed to be having a grand old time...the parade again drew record participants and was well received by the hundreds that lined Michigan Avenue from the County Building to the corner at the Elementary School...all in all the festival was again a success, drawing people from all over...to those who worked to make Milltown a success, a tip of the hat to all of you...

We are sort of getting a head start on this turkey this week...this is Sunday afternoon and we are still trying to shake the orange pop cobwebs out of our head from our short visit to the Milltown Polish Beer Tent Saturday evening...the reason for the head start is that we received an invitation to a social hour at the country club to renew old acquaintances with some of the Michigan National Guard who will be here for the 2-week AT...

Another reason for us trying to get our corner out of the way is that this coming week will be about the most trying week in a long time for the ol' fella...all of the photos that have been taken this past week will not be processed until Monday night (usually it's Sunday night) so we will have to wait until almost deadline to see what photos we have...this will probably force us to use photos of the Milltown Festival in later issues...

Then on Tuesday we will be holding a portion of the front page open to take care of the more important political races for county offices, this will have to be handled Tuesday night for our Wednesday morning printing...

One thought about all this turmoil...Rena will be able to set this turkey Monday instead of the last thing Tuesday afternoon...come to think of it...she could usually set it Tuesday morning, she must put off the agony until the last thing for deadline stuff...

This year's AuSable River Canoe Marathon has become a nightmare for the ol' fella...first in we didn't receive any copy of the start of the race...then we got chewed out because we didn't print anything we couldn't in the first place...now, last Friday we were asked how come we didn't list all the winners that finished this grueling contest...we again explained no one furnished us with the list...we do not have the manpower that daily papers do so consequently we must rely on publicity chairmen of the certain events, clubs and organizations, etc., but we are happy to let our readers know that two young fellows from Grayling entered the race for the first time and came in 18th...to Tim Krey, 19, and Phil Trudgeon, 20, who each received a trophy and split $115.00, our congratulations and better luck next year...it certainly is an endurance test...We received the race results Monday morning, they appear elsewhere.

Elsewhere in this issue you will find a letter from Jack "Pine" Mason, taking issue with our corner of last week when we stated he had visited our office...it is amusing, and we wish we could answer his manipulation of words, but, while he was dangling his feet in the waters of journalism at MSU...we were dangling our feet in the back room of the Otsego Herald Times as a printers devil...we haven't escaped the image since...

Anyway, it was fun...we expected some sort of reply from the Jack Pine Stump...

A happy thought...we are going to have our T.C. family over this coming weekend...T.J., Stef and their pony Charcoal will accompany mom and dad to spend the weekend and take in a Papendick family reunion on Saturday...this last portion is to be read by only those who may be interested...

Have a nice weekend...we just looked at the calendar, and there are three weekends left until Labor Day...and there goes our summer of '80...

CHIP ON THE SHOULDER

Could a chip on the shoulder indicate that there is just wood higher up?

"Make sure your car insurance protects you in 'no-fault' states."

"If you're planning on a long trip by car, chances are, you'll be driving through states with 'no-fault' insurance laws.

"If you're covered by an Auto-Owners policy, you can relax. Auto-Owners provides protection automatically under its bodily injury and property damage liability coverage in 'no-fault' states.

"This kind of far-sighted protection is just one of the reasons we recommend Auto-Owners Insurance to the people we serve."

Auto-Owners Insurance is for auto owners, too.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

WHERE ARE WE IN PROPHECY?

"The Bible gives a ratio of forces at a given political situation of the end times which, if read in the context of today, does begin to look familiar." These are the words of Major General Chaim Herog, Israeli ambassador to the U.N. For the first time in history we have all the nations complete and in position for the last great battles prophesied centuries ago in the Bible. The picture began to take place with the rebirth of Israel in 1948. The growing unity of the Arabs in the current Moslem religious revival. The rise of the Soviet Union to the strongest military power on earth. The ability of Red China to field an army of 200 million soldiers. The entry of Greece as the 10th member of the Common Market in Europe.

Oil is a key to understanding the current road to war. Already Russia has invaded Afghanistan. Her approach to the control of Middle East oil will eventually be through Iran or ancient Persia as prophesied in Ezekiel 38. While Russia is moving to cut off our oil with military force, the Arabs are moving to take control of us economically. OPEC is taking our money. These rich Arabs are in turn investing in our economic system. They plan to control us economically before the Russians shut us down with force. The Communist leaders of Red China must make a decision where and when to stop Russian world takeover. I believe China's all out battle for the Middle East will take place during the Great Tribulation because the prophecy is in Revelation 9:13-19 which is in the Tribulation context.

Bible prophecy makes it clear that a 10 nation confederation of the Revived Roman Empire will rule the economic world at the time of the Great Tribulation. The European Common Market has already elected a parliament. We can expect a United States of Europe to take over control of world trade. We see the prophecy of her political position in Daniel 2 and 7 as the 10 toes and horns. We see her economic control in Revelation 18.

The enemy which will give our power and control to the United States of Europe is little known by the masses. The Council on Foreign Relations as I told you some time ago is an organization of super rich and super intelligent people who are trying to work out a peaceful one world system of government and economics. While they mean well, they are preparing the world for the anti-christ. The Trilateral Commission is identified with the CFR and controls world trade. It is called Trilateral because it replaces the United States as the power to enforce fairness in world trade with a 3 power force. This force includes Japan and the European Common Market along with the United States. The CFR and Trilateral Commission are the work of men like David Rockefeller. Men who join these elite organizations move rapidly into key jobs. Jimmy Carter joined the Trilateral Commission as governor of Georgia. Next week: "The United States in the Balances." (adv.)

Feldhauser Centennial Reunion

Sunday, July 27th, 160 descendants of Henry and Caroline Feldhauser, gathered together at the Maple Forest Townhall, to celebrate their Centennial year in Crawford County.

Archie Feldhauser the oldest member of the family, 91 years, 9 months, and Adam Baynham 4 months, the youngest, were both present.

Out of State members who were there were, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Feldhauser, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Feldhauser and son Bryan of Front Royal, Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Feldhauser, Mr. and Mrs. James Feldhauser, and Mr. Ronald Feldhauser all of Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Feldhauser of San Diego, Calif., and Mr. Norman Hanna of Edison, New Jersey.

Some very special guests from Ann Arbor, first cousins of Archie Feldhauser and his sister, Mrs. Emma Knibbs, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feldhauser and Mr. and Mrs. August Feldhauser, who emigrated from Germany in the 1920's. Also a second cousin, Mrs. Herta Feldhauser Hellmuth and her husband Erich Hellmuth, who came from Germany in 1952. Most of us had never met them.

On Monday, July 28th, 90 family members took a canoe trip down the Ausable river, and then had a cook-out picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Feldhauser on Thendara Road.

Grayling Co-Op Roundup

The Grayling Co-Op Nursery, still has openings for the 1980-81 school year. Why send your children?

We offer a varied list of activities for our children. Our three year old class is geared to social interaction. They learn to share with friends through singing, dancing, drawing, and playing.

The four year old class prepares our children for kindergarten. They develop their fine motor skills with drawing, the uses of scissors and puzzles. They learn to recognize the alphabet and to spell their first names. These skills combined with their furthered social interaction place these children on a strong footing as they start school.

We also take field trips with the children. We go on a hayride in the fall and several other trips during the year.

Doesn't this sound like the life your child deserves? Join us at our round up August 12th, 7-9 at the Grayling Co-Op Nursery School located at 306 Plum St.

For additional information contact Betsy Deakins-348-8001.

Strolling Around Town

by Fay Bovee

"or wheeling around town" as Jerry Morford commented while I was bicycling to Clough Sub. north of the County Road.

The first place I viewed was Bob and Irene Harrington's very neat yard with many flowers and an enormous vegetable garden. The blue bachelor buttons and some pink and purple flowers (that I didn't recognize) along their driveway were my favorites. At the Mary Kelly home, a transformation from pine trees to very green grass and flowers has taken place. Along that same street the Nick Shuraleffs have pink petunias, the Schramms have a yardful of flowers and the "Palmer Farm" has a unique and distinctive look. There are a lot of attractive places out there; also some things that I won't mention!!

Coming back down the business loop, the Triangle Motel flowers are again very nice and we can tell Gordon Pond has spent much time caring for his yard, even the fence is decorated with hanging plants.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

RICHARD F. MCNALLY, JR.
CHIEF ASSISTANT
PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

TO THE CITIZENS OF CRAWFORD COUNTY:

Four years ago, we defined the Prosecutor as:

A sworn minister of justice, whose duty it is to see that the innocent are protected, as well as the guilty are punished...and he must act impartially.

We also promised to strive for a fair, efficient, vigorous and fiscally responsible program of law enforcement.

I respectfully submit that we have lived up to the definition and fulfilled the promise. I am pleased with our record of accomplishment to date, and hope to improve upon it during the next term.

If I retain the Office, I personally assure each of you that I will continue to:

Treat all persons having business with the Prosecutor's Office politely and fairly;

Preserve and protect the peace and order of this Community with every means at my disposal;

Cooperate with and advise the other departments of County Government when requested or required to do so;

Protect and defend the integrity and independence of the Prosecutor's Office as necessary, when necessary.

Once again, I request the support which you have so generously provided in the past. Once again, if elected I pledge my energies and best efforts to the administration of our mutual concerns.

UpNorth

by Michael Delp

Sixteen summers ago I was in East Lansing, attending a summer band camp when the Vietnam war broke out. I vaguely remember reading about something in the Gulf of Tonkin and then I had to go to a rehearsal. From that summer until I graduated from High School in 1967, the war was always there. I turned on the news and watched body counts and B-52 strikes. When I graduated there was the reassurance of going to college, and a student deferment.

While in college, life was idyllic. I spent four years wandering green lawns and sitting in paneled classrooms trying to make enough of myself so I could find gainful employment when I left. For the record, I was spoiled. My father paid the entire cost of my education. He sacrificed greatly and for that I am deeply grateful. But, in those short four years I came to many realizations about life and living, many beliefs which I will hold until they drop me in the grave. I was in college. I was safe, and the war could not touch me.

Enter into this narrative the name of Dan Fries. He was a gangly boy, always all glasses and a sheepish grin. He brought all kinds of animals and bugs to Biology. He always had frogs in his coat or snakes, sometimes wounded birds or raccoons. In short, he seemed to love life and was always careful to spend as much time dawdling before he came to school. He was a kind and considerate person.

While in college I had not seen Dan for several years. In fact, I never thought about him unless I walked into the biology lab at Alma College. I was getting ready to graduate and become a teacher. The war was still raging in Vietnam and it was getting closer. The draft boards across the nation were out of fuel. Things were closing in.

Then, on a particularly beautiful day I received a letter from my parents. Inside was a short news clipping. Dan Fries did not have the money to go to college. He was not among the lucky the day his combat team was shot up in the jungle. He was the first Greenville boy sent home wrapped in a plastic remains bag, wound with an American flag. The war touched his life with a black finger, and I remember how the blackness covered me for weeks after hearing of his death.

Now, years have passed. When the last man stepped off the last transport from Vietnam I thought we might have a chance to return to some form of National sanity. Instead, we are again bringing kids to the brink of living. We bristle at the thought of our oil running out and having our embassies sacked and our foreign diplomats taken hostage. We rise up as an angry nation and make those loud noises of war. The registration begins. Soon, once the machinery is in place, the Pentagon will want to see motion. Once again we will find ourselves turning the channels, each network struggling to cover most dramatically the visual aspects of a war.

In these times I find myself shaking my head a lot. I cannot comprehend how we can be so forgetful; how we can allow ourselves the shortness of memory and not remember the days of campus demonstration; young men going away and not coming back; a whole nation ripped apart by dissent and violence.

In these times, too, I find myself thinking of Dan Fries. I like to close my eyes and imagine him bending to the ground, not in pain, but reaching to pick something up to take to school.

Dear Whitley:

I have read with amused disinterest your editorial comments in last week's Avalanche about my recent visit to your office. Of singular curiosity was your statement that I felt your editorials deserved a far worse word than your oft-used "turkey". Of course, in a moment of charitable insanity, I had stated just the opposite.

But, having dangled my feet in the waters of journalism and my head into a few thousand gallons of Orange Pop myself, I know how easy it is to make an occasional, even downright intentional, bass-ackward interpretation of fact. Thus, I have taken a deep and thoughtful fifteen second reassessment of my position and now find myself in full agreement. "Turkey" is indeed the proper word to use.

In my moral desolation, I find some solace in the fact that perhaps I might now find myself in your editorial Hall of Fame along with such other non-persons as "Irv" and the "leprechaun". And that ain't all bad.

Logical ticket

RICHARD MILLIMAN

The Republican presidential ticket, formally selected in the heat of Detroit in mid-July, is the only intelligent and logical selection that could have been put together under existing circumstances at that time.

The ticket of Ronald Reagan and George Bush is a strong one - stronger even, in my opinion, than the momentarily euphoric so-called "dream ticket" of Reagan and former President Gerald Ford, which captivated the convention and the television-watching nation for one evening.

The Ford candidacy for vice president never really made sense. Despite its emergence as Topic Number One at the convention, it never really had a chance of becoming fact.

Keep in mind several facts:

1. Gerald Ford had repeatedly and consistently refused to acknowledge the possibility he would run for vice president. The idea was floated in trial balloon stage several weeks ago by certain national columnists and political figures; it was even reported - and endorsed - in The Almanack at that time. But Mr. Ford swore off then, and he swore off in Detroit. His position was constant.

2. Betty Ford was dead set against the ideas, and she throws a lot of weight around the Ford household.

3. The national media had invested millions of dollars and millions of person-hours in coverage of the Republican convention. Each network sent 600 persons or so to Detroit for the job, and magazines, wire services, newspapers and other media descended on Michigan in record numbers to cover the convention.

The essential important fact in this case is that there simply was no news coming out of the convention. Every piece of trivia was blown out of proportion as the hordes of newsfolk scrounged for news.

Television, by its nature, not only needs news - it needs news now. That's how the Reagan-Ford ticket idea got going again, and that's why it grew so rapidly and so out-of-proportion.

4. The delegates had nothing to do, and neither did the top political figures from each state. They, too, jumped on every scrap of information - or rumor - and savored it intently. And possibility of a Reagan-Ford ticket helped fill this void for the politicians, who thrive on intrigue.

5. A National political convention brings together in working proximity two species to which gossip and rumor are sustenance - the reporter and the politician. In the Reagan-Ford ticket caper, they fed on each other. They had no choice; nothing of substance was available for their particular mills in Detroit.

6. The primary reason the Reagan-Ford ticket didn't go, however, is that it just doesn't make sense. Here's a 69-year-old presidential candidate backed up by a 67-year-old vice presidential candidate; here's a leader (Reagan) reaching into the past to join with a co-president to govern. Think what fun the Democrats, in their attack position later in the campaign, would have with those points for starters.

Add up all the elements and the inevitability of what eventually happened is clear: There is no way that it makes sense for former President Gerald Ford to run for vice president on a ticket headed by Ronald Reagan.

George Bush as vice presidential candidate is another matter. He, too, was inevitable, given the practicalities with which Mr. Reagan's political career have been marked.

Mr. Bush is philosophically acceptable. He demonstrated remarkable skills, at times, on the primary campaign trail.

He has experience in most of the areas where Mr. Reagan lacks it. And he attracted a good many loyal Republican backers.

For Mr. Reagan to have passed over Mr. Bush would be out of character for Mr. Reagan, who has demonstrated in his public life a strength in embracing the practical.

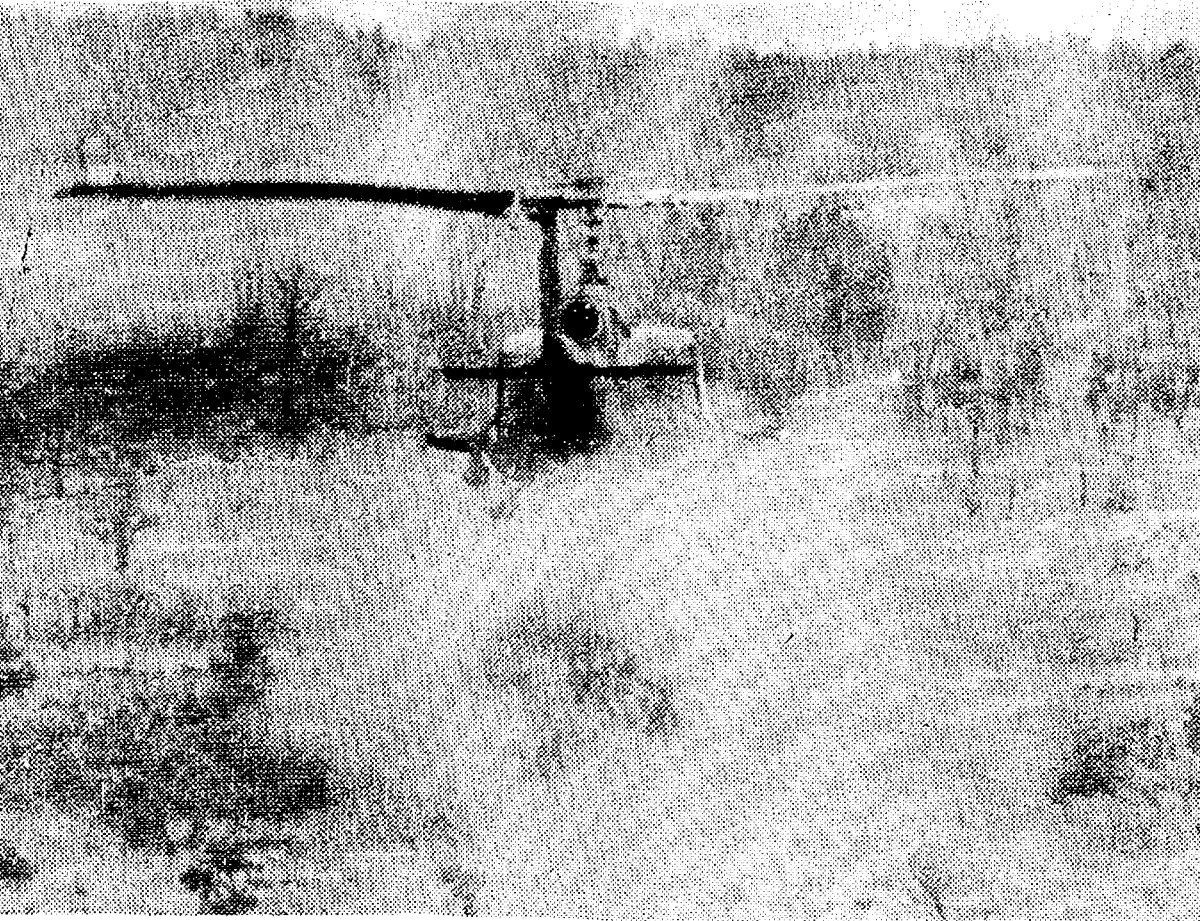

Reagan and Bush will run a strong campaign. There is no problem with the platform. Nobody pays attention to platforms anyway, except the opposition. But Reagan and Bush are not assured of election by any stretch of the imagination.

Reagan starts the campaign several points ahead of President Carter in public esteem as measured by the polls.

But Mr. Carter is a very resourceful politician, who desires very much to stay in the White House.

Sen. Kennedy was several points ahead of Mr. Carter back when his abortive doomed presidential campaign started, too. But once Mr. Carter got rolling, Sen. Kennedy never realized everything that hit him. As a Carter opponent, he ended up battered, bruised and beaten - at least for now.

In politics, the smart practitioner never undersells an incumbent; in the case of President Carter, this would prove to be doubly smart advice.

Around the World With Steve Rison

EDITORS NOTE-This is part four in a five part series covering Steve Rison's Trip "Around the World".

The movie was a James Bond type (even that is too generous) with good guys and bad guys (in Bombay) and a plot line so obvious that it made little difference whether it was in Urdu (one of the principal Indian languages) or Swahili. Ahmad, in any case, has a good command of English and could fill me in on any puzzling scenes. Whenever the good guys needed to get away there was always a medium-sized Kawasaki available just outside the window, if that helps describe this drama. Furthermore, the scene inside the theater was a dramatic and busy as the screen with minor commotions and flare-ups around the balcony interspersed with vendors selling tea (which, by the way, is exceptionally good in India). Needless to say, it was another most enjoyable and experiential afternoon.

My story in Kashmir now ending and not wanting to face another 2 day train trip, I decided to fly back to Delhi and in a little over an hour I went from the peaceful spring of Kashmir to a violent summer dust storm in the bustling capital. My remaining days in Delhi, however, were generally quite pleasant as I was now staying with friends I had met earlier in Dehra Dun and through them met many more fine people. I attempted to arrange my Soviet itinerary but found that there would be some delay as well as a very expensive Intourist (Soviet Tourist Agency) cost which necessitated my canceling this leg for the present. I decided now that I would simply head directly to Europe (and in retrospect am happy I did), did some last minute souvenir shopping, took a tour of the city and generally meandered about trying to get a more positive feel for India which fortunately I did.

While on the city tour, we visited some major monuments and tombs and were allotted some time to explore on our own. During one of these stops to a tomb of a Mogul emperor's general, I wandered off to a side monument and tomb which seemed obviously little visited and in a pretty sad state of repair. As I peered into the entrance I came upon an old man who was living in a small alcove to one side of the tomb. He had long white hair, long white beard and with the addition of a scythe would have been the perfect picture of "Father Time". He speaking perfect English, invited me to sit down and I although abit apprehensive accepted his invitation which

Public Service Announcement Concerning: the Tri-County Outer Limits Encounter Programs

The inability to cope with problems is creating a rapidly growing social problem among youth today. Tri-County Outer Limits Encounter Program purposely provides physically and mentally stressful outdoor experiences to help youth gain confidence in their abilities to cope with problems that they face in other areas of their lives.

Seven persons from Crawford, Roscommon and Oscoda counties are experiencing these stressful situations this week at Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, located west of Munising. T.C.O.L.E.P. Director, Jonnie Ward is leading this group as they pit their survival skills against the forces of nature. The trip began Monday and will end this Sunday. Several other trips are scheduled for August.

August trips include:

August 13 - Hiking around Mackinaw Island

August 19 - 24 Backpacking on High Country Trail

T.C.O.L.E.P. is interested in finding more youth for upcoming trips and also adult volunteers to assist on these trips. Frederic High School Alumni

By Margaret Rogalle

The Frederic High School Alumni held a banquet at the American Legion in Grayling Saturday evening July 26, 1980. There were 76 graduates and their guests attending. Evelena Barber Allen, class of 1927, said grace before we had our meal of baked ham, baked potatoes, peas and carrots, chef's salad with dressing, rolls, butter and coffee. A lovely cake with the dates 1922-1984 was out by Elsie Burke Larson, class of 1927, and served by Eileen Madill Parson, the wife of Victor Parson, class of 1943.

Fred Allen, class of 1961, the president thanked the following for all their help this past year:

Victor Parson, Evelena Barber Allen, James Madill, class of 1954, Elsie Burke Larson, and your committee members Steven Olson, class of 1959, Helma Corsaut Post, class of 1934, Margaret Worthey Rogalle, class of 1937, secretary - treasurer; Betty Pratt Sajdak, class of 1953, and Shirley Duncley Steele, class of 1953. We will have a Library Memorial for those graduates who passed away since the formation of the alumni and are members with Helma Corsaut as the chairperson. Margaret Worthey Rogalle gave a brief report of the past year meetings and correspondence and finances.

Fred Allen then introduced Donald Plagens, class of 1955, master of ceremonies this year; who is a professor at Cuyahoga College in Ohio. Donald then told us it was fun to be home and entertained the group with some school stories prior to recognizing the oldest class members present Evelena Barber Allen and Elsie Burke Larson. Sharon Plagens Wakeley, class of 1964, was the youngest class member attending. Donald Plagens traveled the longest distance to be here this year from Westlake, Ohio.

Election of officers was held with the former committee people re-elected. Victor Parson was elected as a trustee to assist your committee as he has moved back to God's Country, Crawford County.

Former students joined the cheerleaders in a pep session which was followed by the men singing the school song.

Helen Brooks Madsen a former teacher was a most welcome guest with her husband Svend and came from Gaylord to be with us.

Everyone enjoyed reminiscing with other graduates and guests and seeing the class pictures which were on display. Dancing topped off the evening with music by the Pittman's.

Liland Charron, class of 1934, and Jennie Lee Raymond Jungman won the door prize which was a silk flower centerpiece and candles in holders in orange and black our former school colors.

Donald Plagens will be master of ceremonies in 1981 and we hope all of you who graduated from Frederic will join in with us for another fun filled event.

Highlights of Summer Youth Services Program

The Crawford County Youth Services Bureau of Grayling would like to share with you the highlights of its Summer Recreation Program since it's beginning on June 16, until now.

On June 16, the Recreational Assistants working for the Summer Recreation Program were greatly entertained when they took youngsters between the ages of 6 and 10 Bowling. The kids really enjoyed themselves, and keeping score was unusually easy! There were 16 amateurs that attended this fun filled activity at the American Legion Bowling Alley.

The next activity was roller-skating for youth between the ages of 11 and 18. This too was something else to watch; for many of the skaters it was a first time event. This activity really had it's "ups" and "downs" and the statement "I wish I had a pillow" was heard from many. There were 20 participants for this active event, which took place at the Family Recreation Center, Prudenville.

What young person wouldn't enjoy taking a walk through a building filled with big red fire engines? Well that's just what 21 youths did on June 19, 1980, when they were taken on a tour through the Grayling Fire Department.

On June 25, the Summer Recreation Program loaded 22 kids between the ages of 6 and 18 into a van and a car headed for Bear Mountain Museum. They saw several movies and many of the animals that Fred Bear has shot and mounted.

A day at Hartwick Pines with 27 young people can only mean one thing, "Fun, fun, fun!!" and that's just what it was a fun filled day! I don't think anyone can go to the Pines and not enjoy themselves. We sure did! This event took place on June 26, with kids between the ages of 6 and 18 years of age.

A jeep, a truck, a bus, a tank! We saw them all at Camp Grayling on July 1, when Youth Services took 31 youngsters between the ages of 6 and 18 out to the Camp for tour. The 31 kids were all loaded into a big Military bus and taken around the camp. After the tour the participants were brought back to the Youth Services Bureau; on the bus! Want to improve your golf score? Try mini golf! That's what we did; with 14 six to ten year olds on July 7. Several little "swingers" won a free game, through Madsens Miniature Golf Course.

July 17 was a real treat for 13 kids in Crawford County as the Summer Recreation Program took them to the Traverse City Zoo. The kids enjoyed the small animals such as the Lynx, Raccoon, Wolves and Birds. While we were there we had lunch and then went through the Historical Museum.

The future will find us doing things such as canoeing, touring the movie theater, going to Mackinac Island, riding the Sleeping Bear Dunes and much more.

Corwin Cousin Reunion

Saturday, August 2, 1980, marked the twelfth reunion of the Cousin's being held at the old Corwin farm on the four mile road, in the old oak grove where in the past many picnics have been held dating back, over seventy some years.

In spite of the adverse weather 23 brave ? souls turned out, and a delightful lunch was enjoyed, between light showers, all kinds of rain gear was in evidence, even to large garbage bags with holes out for head and arms.

Some were from Florida, Saginaw, Cadillac, Kalkaska and Grayling, and it was decided to hold future reunions on the first Sunday of Aug., as it has been in conflict with the Mill Town doings, see you all next year.

To The Editor:
We would like to take this opportunity to tell the people of Grayling how proud they can be of their 1980 Senior League All-Star baseball team.

At every game their sportsmanship was real. They played hard and well together as a team.

In Grayling we enjoyed victory-beating Boyne City and Gaylord. The game in Petoskey against Charlevoix was one of the most exciting ever! The loss was devastating, but our boys accepted it like gentlemen.

Thanks go out to the Booster Club for buying dinner for the team, to WGRY for broadcasting the games back to Grayling, and to Tom Trenary and Vern LaDuke for their time, effort, support and coaching.

Thank you, boys, for trying so hard! You will always be "All-Stars" in our book.

Bob and Cathy Hickey

On behalf of the Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary of Chapter 98, Gaylord, I would like to thank all of the local media, the businessmen, the D.A.V. workers, but most of all, you, the Community, for your generosity in making our recent "Forget-Me-Not" fund drive a success.

A special thanks to Robert Hughes, our Grayling Chairman. Thanks Bob for your great assistance and success.

Peace can be a moment of stillness, steeped in the beauty of God's world, shared with those you care about.

Yet there is no definition that can fit every human experience of peace. That's probably why the Bible speaks of the peace of God which passeth all understanding.

And the way to find peace — the best way — has always been to seek God. As we turn to Him in prayer and fix our thoughts upon his truth we know a calmness and confidence that neither nature nor companionship alone can provide.

If you haven't already begun the quest for peace — start this week in your place of worship.
